

UK CRIME LAB - EVIDENCE FILE

PERISCOPE PLANS UNCOVERED - MATERIALS USED FOR REFLECTION & REASON GIVEN FOR PERISCOPE EXISTENCE:

Anaya Jindal

Reflective material used: mirror

Reason for having a periscope: for her children to play with

Hannah Jackson

Reflective material used: shiny metal

Reason for having a periscope: school project

Nouri Kashani

Reflective material used: retro reflective

Reason for having a periscope: to see over back fence

Craig Ray

Reflective material used: mirror

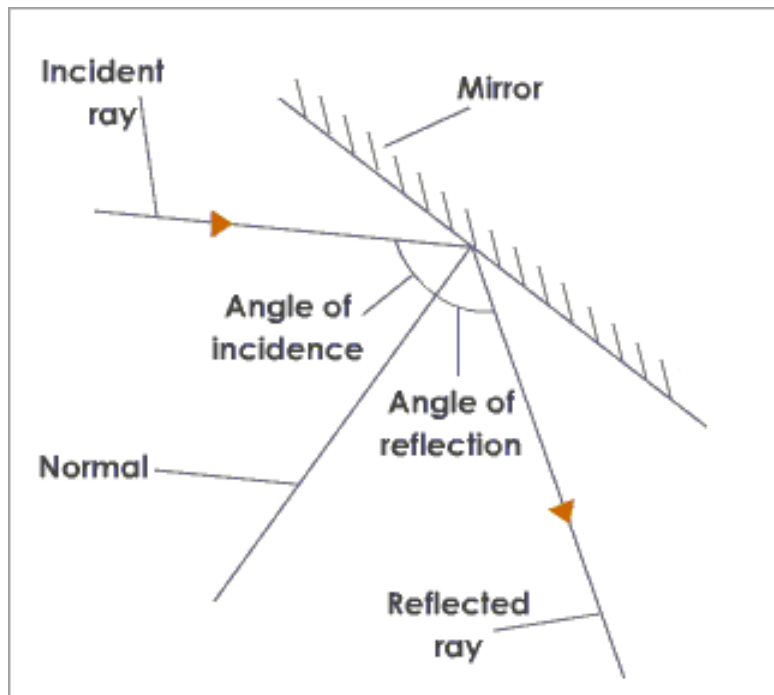

Reason for having a periscope: for a lesson

Oliver Browning

Reflective material used: shiny coloured Perspex

Reason for having a periscope: trying to find lost item down back of cupboard

Reflection diagrams

The 'normal' line is at 90 degrees (right angles) to the mirror.

If a surface is not smooth/flat the reflected light is scattered in many directions

