

Reading Aloud

When you read aloud, in front of an audience, you must:

- Use a presentation voice, which is a bit louder than your talking voice, so they can hear you.

How will you make sure everyone can hear you?

- Change the tone of your voice, make it sometimes loud and sometimes quiet.

Which words will you emphasise?

- Speak clearly, so that what you say doesn't confuse them.

Which words will you need to practise saying?

- Look at their faces and into their eyes, so they will be interested in you!

How can you catch the attention of the audience?
