Dino's Day Out

In the land before our time,
A dino lived who loved to climb.
It had explored the valleys wide,
Before the night had arrived.

It had munched on leaves so green,
Before the other dinos had been seen.
It had roared with all its might,
Before the stars had lit the night.

By a lake, it had rested its feet,
Before the ice had greeted the heat.
And when the moon had risen so high,
This dino had said its sleepy "goodbye."
